Chancellor's welcome

First and foremost, today is your day – congratulations on what you have achieved to bring you to this moment. Your graduation is a major milestone in your life, recognition of the commitment and determination you have shown to grow, learn and discover more about yourself and the world around you.

Today provides a unique opportunity to pause and reflect on what you have achieved, but, as you know well, you didn't arrive here alone – your journey has been supported by so many people who believed in you. So, alongside my congratulations to you, I would like to congratulate your family, friends, peers and all our staff who have supported and helped you along the way.

As some of Adelaide University's first graduates, you join an alumni group that now numbers more than 430,000 across 150 countries and includes role models of the highest calibre – Nobel Prize winners, distinguished politicians, internationally renowned artists, esteemed humanitarian leaders. That is now your family, and we can't wait to see what you can achieve as part of it.

I encourage you to join our formal alumni network and begin a rewarding, lifelong connection with your University. That network extends right around the world, and has been established to provide you with a range of opportunities, including further learning, professional support and links to a community that can help you realise your potential and celebrate your successes.

Those celebrations, of course, start today – your graduation day. It is a day to be proud of what you have achieved, and to know that everyone who has encouraged and supported you is equally proud. Congratulations.

Pauline Carr

Chancellor, Adelaide University

Vice Chancellor's welcome

May I start by offering, on behalf of everyone at our new Adelaide University, the warmest congratulations on your graduation. This is a moment you will remember your whole life, a moment of hard-earned pride you should enjoy to the fullest.

You are among Adelaide University's first ever graduates, and while, for most of you, a great deal of your education was undertaken at one of our wonderful foundation institutions, you are making history by receiving one of the first parchments awarded by a new university that already ranks among the top 100 in the world.

You may not have known you would be making history in this way when you decided to come to university, but you did know you were setting yourself up to make a mark on the future – yours and everyone else's.

During your time at university, you have gained the wisdom and knowledge you need to carve out a bold and fulfilling professional life. Alongside that, you have embraced the opportunity to engage with new ideas, consider new perspectives and form lifelong connections with new friends. You are now ready to share all you have learned with the world, to innovate, to inspire and to shape a brighter tomorrow for everyone around you.

Wherever that future may take you, we know it will be exciting, and we are so proud to be a part of your story.

Pridham Hall / Yangadlitya Wardli

Pridham Hall is named to acknowledge the extraordinary benefaction and leadership of Mr Andrew Pridham AO DUniv. Mr Pridham is a proud alum of one of our foundation Universities.

His transformative gift to the University acknowledges his “outstanding” education as well as reflecting his belief in the positive role education can play in one’s life. Mr Pridham also believes that those that have the capacity to contribute to the broader community should do so generously and encourage others to do the same.

The Pridham Foundation

- Amelia Pridham
- Carolyn Pridham
- Oliver Pridham
- Grace Pridham

“The University is an important institution very worthy of support. Universities develop minds and foster new thinking. It is a privilege for The Pridham Foundation to support and contribute to this impressive building and be a part of the process of developing future generations.

The first Pridhams arrived in South Australia in 1849, just 13 years after the proclamation of Government in SA. This is an investment of 170 years by my family and its preceding generations. South Australia is important to our family and in particular my direct family, being my parents LR (Bob) and Marie Pridham and my siblings Helen, David, Mary and Richard. I hope for the great success of all students who pass through the doors of this great hall in the process of their studies.”

Andrew Pridham AO DUniv.

Processional music

Horizons: Adelaide University Academic Procession Music

Written by Connor Fogarty, recorded by Ensemble Lumen and students of the Adelaide University Elder Conservatorium of Music and School of Performing Arts, conducted by Associate Professor Luke Dollman, with yidaki creative contribution by William Barton.

The title Horizons was inspired by the landscape of the Adelaide Plains where this music was written. The sun rises over the hills to the east and sets over the gulf to the west. This sense of place is reflected in the music by the choir, who sing Tirkangkaku, the Kaurna name for Adelaide University, meaning “place of learning”.

The horizon is also a metaphor for the experience of graduating. We look forward with excitement to what lies ahead, and back to the years of work that brought us to this point and the relationships we developed along the way.

Connor Fogarty

Connor Fogarty (b. 1998) is an Australian composer of solo, chamber, choral, symphonic wind, and orchestral music. He holds a PhD in music composition from the Elder Conservatorium of Music, University of Adelaide, where he studied under Professor Graeme Koehne and Professor Charles Bodman Rae, and where he has since taught.

His works have been performed and recorded by ensembles such as the Australian String Quartet, Australian Youth Orchestra, and Adelaide Wind Orchestra, and by leading musicians such as Celia Craig, Umberto Clerici, and Daniel de Borah. He has received grants from organisations such as the Helpmann Academy, Carclew, and CreateSA.

Ensemble Lumen

Quickly earning critical acclaim for both its individual artistry and collective vision, Ensemble Lumen unites a cohort of leading performers whose international careers span solo, chamber, and orchestral performance, festival leadership, and recording.

Formed in 2025 by the then Elder Conservatorium of Music, the ensemble's name is drawn from sub cruce lumen (“the light of learning under the Southern Cross”), the historic motto of the former University of Adelaide, and stands as a nod to the legacy of one of Adelaide University's foundational institutions, reflecting a shared commitment to illuminating the chamber repertoire through performances of clarity, depth, and imagination.

William Barton

William Barton is a composer and didgeridoo player and one of Australia's leading Aboriginal artists. A member of the Kalkadunga people from Mount Isa, Barton has played with the Sydney Symphony Orchestra for two decades.

His international career began in 2004, when he performed didgeridoo solos on Earth Cry by late Tasmanian composer Peter Sculthorpe, earning international acclaim. His work brings together Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander musical traditions and contemporary classical music.

In 2023, Barton became the Sydney Symphony Orchestra's first Indigenous director, advocating for greater representation of First Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander composers and musicians.

Recession music

Composed by Daniel Rankine, AKA 'Trials', with music performed by Daniel and student members of Adelaide University's Centre for Aboriginal Studies in Music (CASM), and Dem Mob.

Daniel Rankine, AKA 'Trials'

Ngarrindjeri artist Daniel Rankine, known professionally as Trials, is an award-winning rapper, songwriter, producer and instrumentalist, celebrated for his groundbreaking contributions to the music industry.

In 2026, Rankine joined CASM at Adelaide University – Australia's first, and only, dedicated university-based centre for studies in Aboriginal music – just weeks after the release of his long-awaited debut solo album, hendle.

At CASM, Rankine works directly with students in the studio while helping strengthen pathways for emerging Aboriginal artists. Rankine will also continue to contribute to CASM's Kurna Songbook – developed in collaboration with community – as well as other community style projects in corrections and wellbeing spaces.

Dem Mob

Dem Mob emerged from Pukatja (Ernabella) in the APY Lands, beginning as a school music project focused on creating a new sound for young people in their community.

Following their first live festival appearance at WOMADelaide in 2020, Dem Mob went on to perform internationally at Primavera Sound in Barcelona and Lincoln Center in New York. Rapping in both English and Pitjantjatjara, they have brought Pitjantjatjara language and culture to the forefront of contemporary Australian hip-hop. They also deliver a bilingual music program across the APY Lands, supporting and inspiring the next generation of young artists.

Dem Mob have received nine South Australian Music Awards, including recognition for their work as music educators. With family connections to influential Aboriginal bands including No Fixed Address, Yothu Yindi and Coloured Stone, they continue a strong musical legacy. All Indigenous members are alumni of the Centre for Aboriginal Studies in Music (CASM).

Ceremony traditions

Ceremony has long held significance for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Peoples, reflecting the diversity of cultures, Countries, traditions and cultural practices across Australia.

Adelaide University graduation ceremonies bring together the University's own emerging traditions with longstanding academic traditions, including graduation ceremonies and regalia originating in European universities.

Academic Dress

Adelaide University academic dress combines modernity and tradition, with the University's colours incorporated into the hoods worn by graduates, and the gowns worn by Council members and senior leaders, and those being awarded special honours.

Academic dress, including the full-length robe, hood and classical headwear, dates back to the medieval 12th and 13th centuries in Europe when universities, as we know them today, were developing.

The regalia were originally worn daily by university scholars for reasons of warmth and to reflect their status in society. The sense of purpose and propriety evoked by formal academic dress has ensured the tradition has been preserved over the centuries.

In contemporary times, academic dress is largely reserved for graduation ceremonies and formal university events.

Academic dress usually reflects the highest academic qualification of the wearer. Special ceremonial gowns are also worn and these represent the wearer's position and role.

- The Chancellor's gown is Dark Blue Chelmsford Damask and incorporates custom designed embroidery and gold oakleaf lace and the Dark Blue bonnet is finished with a gold tassel.
- The Vice Chancellor can be recognised by the distinctive Dark Blue Chelmsford Damask gown with custom design embroidered trim, edged each side with silver oakleaf lace, worn with a Dark Blue bonnet with silver tassel.
- The Deputy Chancellors and Pro Chancellors also wear a traditional Chancellor gown in Dark Blue Chelmsford Damask with custom design embroidered trim in gold oakleaf lace. This is also worn with a Dark Blue bonnet finished with a gold tassel.
- The Provost and Deputy Vice Chancellors wear a Dark Blue Pure Wool Master gown faced with custom design embroidered trim with silver oakleaf lace, worn with a Dark Blue bonnet finished with a purple tassel.
- Council Members are distinguished with a Dark Blue Pure Wool Cambridge style gown with front facings of South East Limestone satin and a Dark Blue bonnet with a Limestone tassel.
- Recipients of an Honorary Doctorate of the University wear the Cambridge Style gown in North Terrace Purple trimmed with Dark Blue satin facing, and a North Terrace Purple Oxford Burgon hood. A Dark Blue bonnet with a purple tassel is the accompanying headwear.

Gown

Adelaide University graduates wear black gowns in the Cambridge style.

Hood

Graduates wear a black hood lined with a colour representative of their level of achievement:

- Postgraduate students wear a hood lined with South East Limestone
- Bachelor and Honours degree students wear a hood lined with North Terrace Purple
- Diploma, Associate Degree, Professional Certificate and Undergraduate Certificate students wear a hood lined with Bright Blue.

Candidates graduating with a PhD wear a black gown with red facing on the front and around the sleeve cuffs.

Headwear

Graduates receiving a Professional Certificate, Undergraduate Certificate or Diploma, Associate Degree, Bachelor, Honours, Graduate Certificate or Diploma or Masters qualification wear a black mortarboard.

Graduates receiving a Professional Doctorate or PhD wear a bonnet of black velvet.

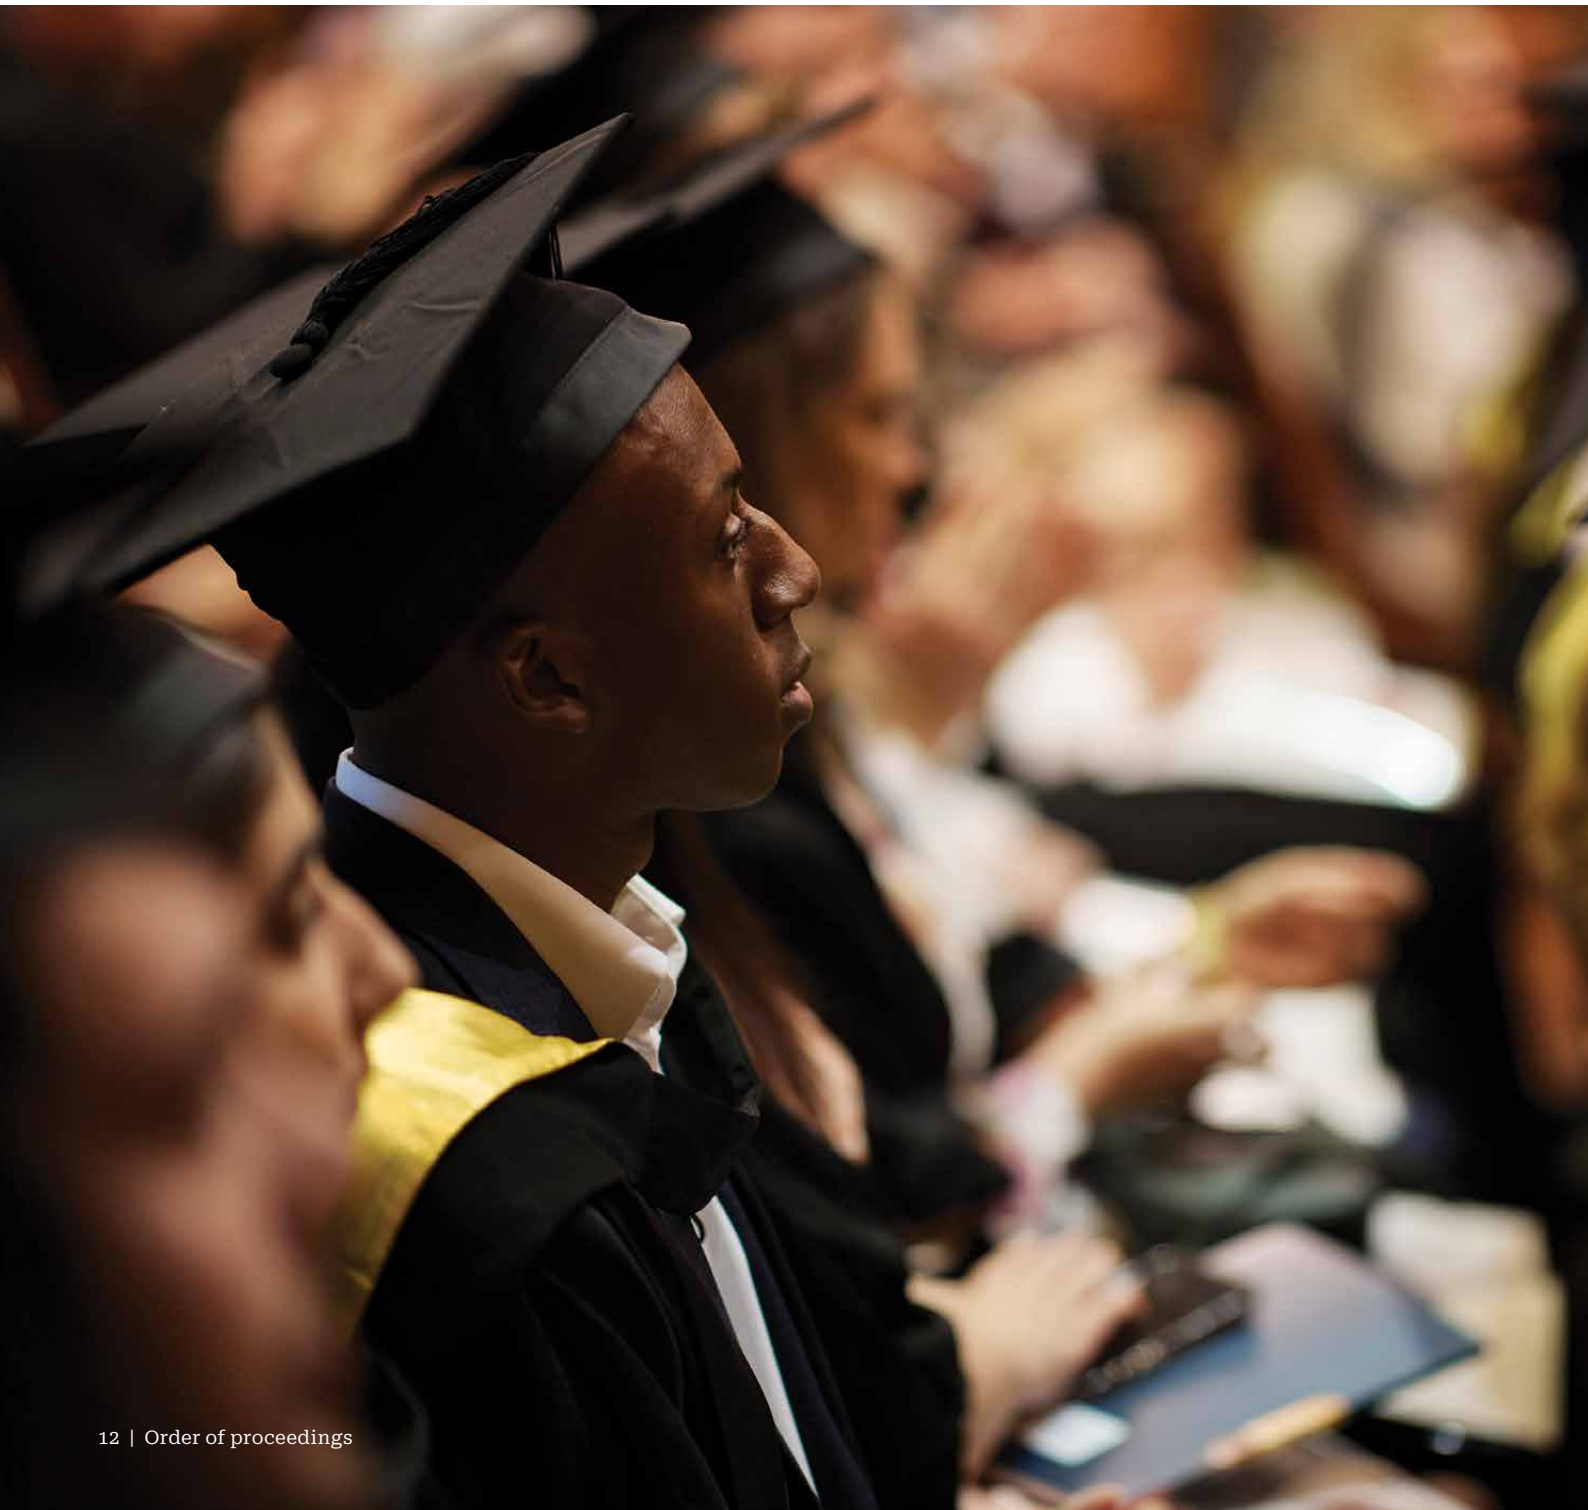

Academic Procession and stage party

The academic recession signals the end of the ceremony and is led by the ceremony officiator, followed by the stage party, and all newly conferred graduates, signalling their entry to the academic community.

You may also be eligible for a 15% fee discount on a range of postgraduate courses through our Adelaide University Alumni Scholarship. International alumni may be eligible to receive a 10% tuition fee discount on a range of degrees at both graduate and undergraduate levels.

Reunions

Alumni reunions are the perfect opportunity to reconnect with your peers, foster social and professional connections, and celebrate how far you've come since your university days. The Alumni Relations team can help with organising your reunion, ensuring it's an event to remember.

Awards and recognition

Our alumni make a profound impact on the world stage. Your efforts advance the common good, contribute to our global knowledge and inspire others to innovate and create change. From our own annual Adelaide University Alumni Impact Awards to notable Australian Honours and prestigious international scholarships, awards recognise the efforts and achievements of our distinguished alumni community and the positive social impact they create in our communities.

Make a difference

By supporting scholarships and hardship funds, donors can help remove barriers from students in need, enabling them to continue their studies despite the challenging circumstances they may face.

Gifts can also be made to support research and community programs – investing in the future while making genuine impact today. Visit our website to learn more about the impact of philanthropy in our community.
