

THE UNIVERSITY of ADELAIDE

FASCINATING AND MULTI- FACETED COURSE

Introduction to Language in Culture and Society

(LING 1102, Semester 2, 2020)

Are you interested in learning about the intricate relationship between language and society? About the politics of language and the language of politics? About language, culture and identity?

This course will introduce you to the fascinating and multifaceted field of sociolinguistics.

Join us and learn about language variation across countries, regions, religions, ethnicities, social classes, genders, ages and levels of education.

When: Wednesdays, 2.10pm – 4pm

Where: Napier G03

Further particulars: ghilad.zuckermann@adelaide.edu.au