

HUMAN RESEARCH ETHICS COMMITTEE

Member Role Description – Researcher

THE UNIVERSITY
of ADELAIDE

Title of HREC Role	Researcher, University of Adelaide Human Research Ethics Committee (HREC)
University Area	Office of Research Ethics, Compliance and Integrity, Research Services

Description and purpose of the role:

Human research encompasses a wide range of activities with an equally wide range of risks and potential benefits. The HREC assists the University to protect the welfare and rights of participants in research. The Committee must ensure the effective consent of research participants in a research project and that any risk which may be involved is acceptable.

Responsibilities:

- To apply the ethical principles and values set out in the National Statement of Ethical Conduct in Human Research (2023) as well as other relevant guidelines.
- To consider the ethical implications of proposed research projects on human participants and to determine whether they are acceptable on ethical grounds.
- To provide monitoring of research projects until completion so that the HREC may be satisfied that they continue to conform with approved ethical standards.
- Agrees to undertake the necessary training provided by their Supervisor, including Health, Safety and Wellbeing induction and any hazard management training required to undertake their role.

Specific duties to be undertaken:

All work undertaken will be under instruction and supervision; including:

- Become familiar with the National Statement and consult other guidelines relevant to the review of specific research proposals.
- Read and review applications for ethical approval prior to attendance at HREC meetings.
- If unable to attend a meeting, provide opinions in writing on the ethical acceptability of research proposals before meetings.
- Contribute to and be respectful of the exchange of opinions from members at the meetings.
- Each member is responsible for deciding whether, in his or her judgement, a research proposal submitted for review meets the requirements of the National Statement and is ethically acceptable.

Qualifications – skills, expertise, experience, knowledge

- Current human research ethics experience
- Knowledge of the National Statement of Ethical Conduct in Human Research (2023) and other ethical guidelines.

Personal attributes required:

- High standards of integrity.
- Effective interpersonal skills and the ability to work in a collegial team.
- A willingness to be an active contributor.
- Experience in one or more of the following would be advantageous but is not essential:
 - Experience on a committee,
 - Experience reviewing large documents.

HUMAN RESEARCH ETHICS COMMITTEE

Member Role Description – Researcher

THE UNIVERSITY
of ADELAIDE

Time frame and/or attendance requirements:

- The Committee meets ten times each year on a Monday.
- Meetings start at 2pm and are approximately 3 hours long.
- Reading and consideration of applications will vary for each meeting (approximately 2-4 hours pre-reading) depending upon the number and nature of applications submitted.
- Non-attendance will require written comments provided to the Committee's Ethics Officer at least 1-day prior to the meeting.
- Regular non-attendance (more than three times per year) may result in membership review.
- Out-of-session reviews will occasionally be required to be completed in your own time.

Training provided	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Newly appointed members will be provided induction training.• During their membership on the HREC, members will be given the opportunity to attend training workshops relevant to the work and responsibilities of the HREC.• A member portal is available to provide a variety of reference materials.
Location of work	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Meeting papers are sent seven calendar days before the meeting.• Meeting papers are stored in a cloud and can be accessed via the internet.• Committee meetings are held at the University of Adelaide, Rundle Mall Plaza, Adelaide.
Travel involved	Committee meetings are held at the University of Adelaide, Rundle Mall Plaza, Adelaide.
Supervisor	Chair, Human Research Ethics Committee Director, Office of Research Ethics, Compliance and Integrity
Special requirements	None required

Benefits

- Help to advance leading edge research in an important and practical way by bringing an independent view to the HREC.
- Gain an understanding of the broad range of research activities that are undertaken by the University.
- Professional development and training opportunities.